1.3. Role descriptions

Host:

The Host – opens the competitions and ensures it runs smoothly.

- You will have an air of authority – but keep the panel and audience relaxed, remaining in control and attentive throughout
- In your introduction you have approximately 2 minutes to set the scene for the audience – introduce yourself, the event they are attending, outline of the competition and a brief introduction to the teams (teams will provide their own, more in-depth, introduction)
- As host you will bring the competition to an appropriate close after the sixth word, think about your final comments and close the meeting.

Teams:

- You will each receive a word and its definition – as a team you will decide who provides the true definition and which two members will provide the ‘bluff’. Don’t share your words with the other team!
- Make it convincing! – Points are scored by the opposite team for each ‘bluff’ guessed correctly, creativity in your description of the word and for teamwork
